HSG: growth and expertise joining Orise

HSG, acquired by Process Automation Solutions in 2022, has been a trusted leader in the automation and integration of pharmaceutical production processes for more than 20 years. The rebrand to Orise marks the next step in our shared story, providing customers with access to an expanded network of expertise, technology, and global resources. In Italy, our core business is basically divided into the following main tasks:

- Pharmaceutical production plants
- Software integration from level 1 and above up to level 4
- Automation engineering
- Automated process equipment
- Commissioning and validation of the plant

We are certified (UNI EN ISO 9001) and its approach to quality is in accordance with GxP, GAMP5 best practices. We have developed an excellent experience with the software systems of the most important industrial automation companies but is also able to support the customer by providing electrical and mechanical HW solutions, performing revamping of existing process machines, assisting in the validation of equipment and producing IQ/OQ/PQ documents or performing SAT protocols on behalf of the customer. Our mission is to develop innovative and integrable solutions that are responsive to its customers' growing needs, strictly in accordance with current pharmaceutical standards.

THE FUTURE OF HSG: BECOMING ORISE

HSG Engineering, with parent company Process Automation Solutions and 11 other associated member companies, it will soon rebrand under the unified name "Orise." This global rebrand reflects the culmination of a strategic vision to deliver scalable, system-independent automation, digitalization, and optimization services and solutions to customers worldwide.

Our valued customers will now have unparalleled access to the full-service capabilities of Orise in creating tailored automation, digitalization, and consulting services and solutions. From innovative engineering to process optimization, Orise ensures a seamless transition while upholding the same service excellence HSG Engineering has consistently delivered.
